

HUSBAND LOYAL TO ACCUSED WIFE

Suspicious Deaths of Four Former Mates Doesn't Change Him

WOMAN MUST EXPLAIN

Will Come from Honolulu to Fight Legal Battle

SAN FRANCISCO.—(Special)—When Mrs. Lydia Trueblood Southard returns from Honolulu with her fifth husband, Paul Vincent Southard, chief petty officer of the U. S. cruiser Monterey, she will need all the help that adoring young man has promised to give her in the great legal battle to prove that she did not murder the four husbands who in quite rapid succession preceded him.

Despite the charges that have been made against his wife, who is not yet thirty, Southard remains true to her, and from Honolulu has sent this statement:

"Lydia denies all these charges, and I have absolute confidence in her innocence. She has been a good, true wife to me, and I have never had the slightest reason to question her. She has been in poor health since coming to Hawaii, and we both will be glad to return to Idaho."

The bride's plight is traceable directly to the uncertainty of the county chemist of Twin Falls over the cause of the death of her fourth husband, Edward F. Meyer, on September 20, last. The body was exhumed, evidence of arsenic discovered, and a general investigation ordered. While this was under way, the young widow went to the coast and was married again. Before her arrest was ordered, Idaho detectives trailed back through her life and uncovered a series of remarkable events.

Lydia Trueblood is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Trueblood of Keatsville, Mo. She won local fame for her beauty and her developed a sophisticated charm as she grew older that made her extremely noticeable. She became acquainted with the Dooley family, of prosperous farmers, and Robert Dooley became enamored of her. The Trueblood family moved to Twin Falls about 1910, and Robert Dooley followed. Lydia and he were married in 1912.

THE FIRST DEATH.—They moved back to a Missouri farm, but the farm was no longer attractive to the petted wife. They returned to Twin Falls. The bridegroom, Robert, and his brother Edward took out an insurance policy of $2,000, which provided that half the amount was to go to the surviving brother and the rest to Lydia in case of the death of either.

Then came the first death in the girl's married life. Edward Dooley died after a sudden illness, on August 9, 1915, less than six years ago. He was sick only five days. The coroner's certificate ascribed the death to typhoid fever. The insurance company paid $1,000 to Robert and Lydia as the dead man's policy provided.

The day after Edward's death, Robert and Lydia took out another $2,000 policy which stipulated that the money would be paid to the survivor on the death of either of them. On October 1, 1915, Robert Dooley died after a short, sudden illness. The coroner's certificate gave the cause of death as typhoid fever. The insurance company without question paid the $2,000 to the wife. In the period between the deaths of the brothers, Mrs. Dooley bore a child, Lorraine.

Deputy Sheriff Grimsby said the woman had told him after her husband's death that he had contracted typhoid from drinking water in a well into which surface water had run. The baby had been given some of the water, too, she said. The baby died on November 15 of the same year. Again, typhoid was the cause written into the coroner's certificate.

ANOTHER INSURANCE POLICY.—Two years later, the young attractive widow was married to W. G. McHaffie. He obtained a life insurance policy for $5,000. The bride couple went to live in Hardin, Montana. He died of influenza the mountain a year later, according to the official records of the town.

When the question of paying on the policy of insurance came up, the insurance companies asserted that the second payment had not been made as required in the contract. They refused to pay off the policy.

Lydia Trueblood, now Mrs. McHaffie, moved to Denver, Colo., and in May, 1919, was married to Harlan Lewis. They immediately moved to Billings, Mont., and a month later the bridegroom took out a $5,000 life insurance policy. The next morning he became violently ill and died within twenty-four hours. Postmortem poisoning was the cause of death, according to the medical certificate. Lydia Trueblood, now Mrs. Lewis, collected the $5,000 and returned to Twin Falls, the scene of her first romance.

One August 10, 1920, she became the bride of Edward Meyer at Portland, Ore., the deputy sheriff asserted, and in this ceremony she is charged with having given the name of Anna May McHaffie. Why this was done is not clear to the authorities who charge it, but they hint that there was a substantial reason for her desiring to conceal the fact that the policy was not delivered to her.

The bride went with Lewis to his Snake River ranch to live. Within two weeks of the marriage, the bridegroom became desperately ill, after supper. He was taken to a hospital, appeared to gain strength, then on September 1, 1919, he suffered a relapse and died.

SHE MUST EXPLAIN DEATH OF FOUR HUSBANDS

Mrs. Lydia Trueblood Southard and two of her deceased husbands munity. She was questioned as to previous marriages. She denied positively ever having married Lewis, and nothing could shake her statements.

But the chemists were suspicious. They examined the viscera of the ranchman and reported evidence of arsenic. The inquiry was pushed further. The bride disappeared suddenly.

Detectives were detailed to trace her. They located the young woman in this city, Los Angeles, and kept her under surveillance, while the Idaho inquiry was continued. The bodies of the Dooley brothers and the infant daughter were exhumed. Again the report of the chemist was that traces of arsenic were found. McHaffie's body was exhumed, and once more the examiners said indications of poison were still present.

FLY PAPER WAS USED.—Investigation of the Meyers ranch revealed that part of a package of old-fashioned flypaper had been used, and that the rancher's death followed its removal from the original package, though the missing paper could not be discovered.

But, before the Idaho authorities could act, Mrs. Lydia Trueblood-Dooley-McHaffie-Lewis-Meyer was Mrs. Paul Vincent Southard, wife of the chief petty officer of the U. S. cruiser Monterey. They were wed very quietly, and soon after the ceremony he obtained a transfer to the Monterey, and both went to Honolulu.

The bride expressed amazement when detained, on cable orders from the States, and demanded an explanation. When it was given her, she said:

"I never poisoned anyone in my life, and never tried to. My previous husbands died natural deaths. I have the certificates to show it. I will go back as soon as possible to face these accusations. I can prove my complete innocence of every one of these charges."

ROAD FUNDS MAY BE RETURNED

State Highway Commission to Build Bridge Near Lima

Federal aid for the building of highways in Allen-co may yet be secured. County Commissioners Thursday received word from the state highway commission that a bridge on the Findlay-rd, about four miles northeast of Lima, is to be constructed. Work will begin soon.

Work on the improvement on the road can be made, the bridge must be built. This leads commissioners to take a hopeful view of the situation and to believe federal road funds will be forthcoming, at least in part.

Almost before it was realized, after $375,000 federal aid had been granted Allen-co, $200,000 was given by the state highway commission. Repeated attempts to secure return of the road fund have been made, but commissioners have only promises.

Commissioners view the report of the bridge construction as the first step toward improvement of the road. The plan will connect with two miles of improved roads on the Findlay highway, which was completed some time ago.

NATIONAL C. C. MAN MAY DELIVER ADDRESS HERE

A. W. Hutchins, representing the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, visited the local Chamber Thursday, in the interests of the national organization.

If arrangements can be perfected, Hutchins may be brought to Lima for a talk before a forum luncheon, or some other organization in the city. He has visited Dayton three times this spring, speaking last at a conference of executives of the National Cash Register company. His topic is: "What Is Wrong With Business?"

ENGINEERING FALLACY FOUND.—CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—A fallacy in engineering engineering has been discovered by Atherton K. Dunbar, a member of the Harvard staff, who with a research group has been working under the direction of Harvey N. Davis, of the Engineering School. Dunbar has proved that "Baily's curve," accepted for twenty years as a statement of fundamental law, is wrong. Having designed a new type of apparatus for the purpose, Dunbar tested it with liquid air. To his surprise he found "Baily's curve" hitherto accepted as the gospel truth, was quite inaccurate.

CANDIDATE RUSH STILL TO COME

Board of Elections Rooms Dull Place up to Noon Thursday

With the time limit on filing declarations of candidacy slowly approaching the eleventh hour, candidates for nomination continue to play a waiting game. Up to noon Thursday, the office of the election board, had not witnessed a rush.

A. J. Morris, clerk of the board, was holding the fort in the front office, alone. A caller dropped in to see what was going on now and then, but most of the time Morris was forced to seek human companionship by invading the insurance office next door.

In other words, the big rush to get under the wire hasn't commenced to rush.

With filing of two petitions from Delphos, the Democratic ticket there is filled with exception of a senator for the first ward. E. C. Sloger, has filed for nomination as assessor in the Second ward and Richard A. Lindemann, has announced that he will make the race for solicitor. Neither man has opposition.

The only contest likely in Lima will be for the Republican nomination for constable. There are three in the race now and more coming, according to rumor. Several present members of the school board whose terms expire may make the race again. Petitions are being circulated, but none of them had filed up to noon Thursday.

If no one files for justice from the G. O. P. camp, it is rumored that Justice Wm. Guyton may be continued in office by being reappointed. All question of his term expiring was set at rest when a ruling was given the board by Prosecutor Eugene Lippincott. Up to date Justice Guyton has not filed, altho he is ready to act, if necessary.

MONSIGNOR MANNING HONORED IN TOLEDO

Unusual honor was given Monsignor A. E. Manning, pastor of St. Rose Catholic church, at the consecration of Bishop August J. Schwertner in Toledo, Wednesday.

Monsignor Manning was one of the deacons of honor at the side altar in the cathedral, where Bishop Schwertner celebrated mass at the time of the consecration, while Bishop Schwertner was celebrating mass at the main altar.

TO PLANT GARDEN OF 600,000 TREES

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo.—Work will start soon on the planting of 600,000 trees on the north slope of Pike's Peak, and a bonus will be paid to the sixty odd workers who remain "on the job" until the planting is completed.

This gigantic planting project is part of the reforestation program planned by the United States Forestry Service to conserve the water supply of the Pike's Peak region by restoring the water sheds that have been denuded by numerous forest fires.

Thousands of the trees to be planted have already been delivered to a nearby spot, where they are cached in crates in deep snowbanks to prevent premature budding. The trees are four and five inches in height and were raised from seeds planted in Government nurseries.

ARCHITECTS' ACTIVITY IN PUBLIC AFFAIRS IS URGED BY DEAN SMULL

Architects and engineers should take an interest in all public affairs and especially those that are along the lines of their occupations, according to Professor Thomas J. Smull, Dean of Ohio Northern University, who spoke at the meeting of the Lima Architects and Engineers association, Wednesday evening at the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium.

"In many cases money saving advice can be given to the city officials by the engineers and architects if they are consulted. Other cities take advantage of their local associations and submit their problems to them," said Smull.

SUN NOT CENTER OF UNIVERSE

Young Astronomer Has Interesting New Theory

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—(By International News Service)—Our universe is a thousand times larger than has been believed, and the earth, far from being in the center of things, is 360 quattuorillion miles from the center of the universe, according to discoveries discussed recently by Dr. Harlow Shapley, noted astronomer, who recently came to Harvard from the Mount Wilson Observatory in California.

Dr. Shapley is a comparatively young astronomer, yet he has won a high place in his professional field. He is a graduate of the Missouri State University, and of Princeton. He was identified with the Mount Wilson Observatory seven years.

By taking the distance between sun and earth as a base for triangulation measurements, vast distances in the past have been recorded until such lines have been extended hundreds of light years and even to the border of measurement, the Pleiades. Light travels at the rate of 186,000 miles a second and a light year is the distance a ray of light will travel in one year.

The Pleiades are hardly in the front yard of Dr. Shapley's galaxy, which he has measured and found to be in length about 360,000 light years. It is a super-milky way. A light year, the distance a beam of light will travel in one year, is 6,000,000,000,000 miles. It takes but eight minutes for light to come to the earth from the sun, 93,000,000 miles away.

INSIGNIFICANCE OF THE EARTH.—The young astronomer has proved by calculations that the sun—the little speck of light around which a tiny shadow called the earth revolves—is not by any means the center of the universe, but is 60,000 light years off the center. He has caused our proud solar system to take a long sidereal sidestep into insignificance.

"Personally I am glad to see man sink into such physical nothingness," said the scientist, "and it is wholesome for human beings to realize of what small importance they are in comparison with the universe."

In fact, Dr. Shapley appeared enthusiastic over the fact that he has reduced the size of the earth a thousand times.

At the Mount Wilson Observatory Dr. Shapley spent a great deal of time studying globular clusters of stars, and principally one called "Messier 13," which is 2,000 light years from the earth. Small stars in this group are 100 times as large as our sun, while the larger and more brilliant he described as a thousand times as big as Old Sol.

NO ORDER FOR FLAG TO BE PLACED AT HALFMAST

No official communications have been received by Colonel John Harney, commander of Paul Gallagher Post American Legion, from the national organization, regarding the death of Commander-in-Chief F. W. Galbraith, Wednesday.

In commenting on the report that the flags of the American Legion Posts throughout the country were ordered at half-mast, Harney stated that the local post had as yet no official flag pole and flag. The fact that the Legion here has no permanent home, accounts for this condition.

HOSPITAL DRAWS WORLD'S EYES

Medical Experts Attracted to Cincinnati Institution

WAS DREAM OF DR. HOLMES

Now One of the Most Complete Buildings of Its Kind

CINCINNATI.—(By Associated Press)—The Cincinnati General Hospital, completed a few years ago at a cost of nearly $3,000,000, and believed to be one of the most complete institutions of its kind in the world, still attracts medical experts from all over the globe.

The group of big buildings, situated on the hilltops where the air is pure and fresh; are mute testimony to the dreams, energy and foresight of one man, the late Dr. C. L. Holmes. Some of the most modern hospitalization features known are centered in the institution; many of the ideas were brought from Europe by Dr. Holmes, who spent liberally of his time, money and energy to give Cincinnati what authorities concede to be one of the finest hospitals in the world.

He conducted an incessant campaign thru the newspapers and in other ways, eventually with the result that the people of Cincinnati approved a $2,365,000 bond issue. At the time the bond issue was voted, Dr. Holmes led a fight for a half-million dollar bond issue to secure funds to equip the buildings.

Dr. Holmes did not die until after he had seen a new medical school affiliated with the University of Cincinnati, erected on the hospital grounds. He was made its dean.

The hospital grounds proper are 27 acres in extent. Adjacent lands, owned by the city, give additional space of 37 acres, ample room for expansion.

The first building of the group to be encountered is the stately administration building. Here are housed the general offices, visitors' waiting room, staff and interns' rooms, library and lecture rooms. The upper two floors are occupied as residence quarters by the superintendent and family resident physicians and internists.

The receiving ward situated directly behind the administration building, is one of the best equipped in the country. Desperate cases are brought in under separate porches, so as to spare such sights from the other patients.

The clothing of every patient after his admission passes thru a large disinfecting bath. Then it enters the tailoring shop, and when the patient is discharged his clothes are handed to him, cleaned and pressed. They are encased in dust-proof bags, while he is in the hospital.

The general amphitheatre has a seating capacity of 250. Separate buildings which confront each other are called Wards A, B, C, D and E. On the upper floor of the ward is the surgical pavilion.

LARGE KITCHEN.—There is a water distilling plant which supplies all operating rooms. The kitchen and service building houses an ice plant with a capacity of 30 tons a day. The main kitchen is 60 feet in length, and sixty feet wide. All the cooking is done here for the resident physicians, officers and help of every kind, with one exception of the nurses, who have their own kitchen in their quarters. There is also a diet kitchen.

Another building houses the quarters for male help, a store and supply room and also a room for sewing and mending linens. The power plant is surmounted by a stack 250 feet high. On the upper floor of this building is the laundry.

The nurses' home is considered one of the most up-to-date in the country or Europe. Nothing contributing to the comfort of the nurses apparently has been overlooked.

Edith Day Named In London Divorce

LONDON.—(By International News Service)—In the climax of the most sensational stage divorce case in many years in London, involving members of British society, Miss Edith Day, American actress, and star in "Irene," was named as the "other woman" alleged to have come between Margaret Bannerman, the famous Canadian actress, and her husband, Pat Somerset.

The announcement astonished all London theatergoers, with whom Edith Day and Margaret Bannerman are favorites.

Miss Day's name was dragged in to the case by a male witness who testified that she was formerly connected with Miss Day's household in the actress' home at Torquay. The witness said she was discharged by Miss Day when the latter learned she had been called to London to testify.

Miss Bannerman won her decree of divorce, altho the charges placed against Somerset were denied but not contested. Somerset's name in private life is Holmes-Sumner, and he is a son of a captain in the Royal Navy.

Surprise was manifested among the London social elite when it was learned that the popular young American actress is a married woman, her husband being an American theatrical producer. Miss Day's professional and personal success here was little short of phenomenal.

Mrs. Johnson was removed to St. Rita's hospital, where, it was announced after examination was made, recovery is assured. Altho Mrs. Johnson carried with her an ounce phial of the acid, but little of it is believed to have been swallowed. The lips and inside of the mouth was burned.

HAWAII READY FOR PRESS MEET

Newspaper Men to Gather at Honolulu, October 11

SEE GENUINE HULA-HULA

Great Pageants To Be Revived For Congress

HONOLULU, Hawaii.—(By International News Service).—Between 450 and 500 publishers, editors and newspapermen from all parts of the world will gather at Honolulu Territory of Hawaii, better known as the "Crossroads of the Pacific," from October 11 to 15 inclusive, as delegates to the Press Congress of the World, of which Dr. Walter Williams, dean of the School of Journalism of the University of Missouri, is president.

Persons of all races in the Hawaiian Islands are making extensive preparations for the entertainment of the delegates, and there is not to be one idle moment from the time the first contingent arrives until the time when the last has been aboard its ship bedecked with wreaths of flowers the Hawaiian symbol of "Oloha Oe" and good luck. Under present arrangements four full days will be given over to the serious business of the congress and the remainder of the period will be devoted largely to sightseeing the programme, including visits to every island of the Hawaiian group.

HISTORIC CONVENTION CHAMBER.—The business session of the congress will be held in the historic throne room of the capitol at Honolulu, which was the home of the Hawaiian monarchs prior to the annexation of the islands to the United States. It is interesting to note that this is the only throne room in the United States, and it still retains a part of the picturesqueness of former days. This room, with its crystal chandeliers, life-size portraits in oil of Hawaiian and foreign sovereigns, its huge mirrors and striking decorations, is well used as the biennial meeting place of the houses of representatives of the Territorial legislature.

"At Honolulu there has been formed a general Press Congress committee, which is handling all of the general arrangements. It is composed of Wallace R. Farrington, general business manager of the Honolulu Star-Bulletin, chairman; Lorrin J. Thurston, publisher of the Honolulu Advertiser, vice-chairman; L. W. de Vis-Norton, of the Hawaii Publicity Commission, secretary, an John R. Galt, of the Hawaiian Trust Company, treasurer. Each island and each group of language newspapers has a vice-chairman to serve as a member of the executive committee.

Thurston is chairman of the general entertainment committee and the programme now being arranged includes all of the most interesting tours to be made thru the "Paradise of the Pacific." It is planned to charter a special steamer to carry the delegates to the outlying islands of the Hawaiian group, the trip will include a visit to the famous active volcanic crater, Kilauea, on the island of Hawaii and to the equally famous extinct crater of Haleakala, island of Maui where one may walk for miles thru the huge depression which was once seething sea of molten lava.

HULA-HULA INTERPRETATION.—The beautiful native dances, Hawaiian life will not be forgotten during the congress, despite the fact that the Territory is a high modern integral part of the United States. It is planned to revive in this occasion some of the great Hawaiian pageants which are no extremely rare. The Hawaiian people themselves look upon the Congress also as an opportunity to show to the world of what the race stood for at the height of its glory and nobility. Among other things the delegates will hear the Hawaiian music and will also see what is meant by the genuine hula dance in contrast to the vulgarized version which has become rather sporadic away from the islands.

One day during the Congress will be exclusively under the auspices of the Pan-Pacific Union, and it is planned to revive on this occasion the impressive flag ceremony of the Pacific nations represented in Hawaii.

Will Wilkie, publisher of the Gre Eagle, Minn., Gazette and a retired president of the National Editors Association, has been elected by the Hawaiian Legislature to be chairman of the committee of transportation. The 1921 session of the Hawaiian Legislature appropriated $25,000 to assist in entertaining the delegates, and the citizens of the Territory will raise an additional $25,000.

SPECIAL PRAYERS FOR FARMERS

Portsmouth Conference Held to Study Economic Conditions

CALL BY MINISTERS

To Co-operate Church and Rural People

COLUMBUS — (By Associated Press) — Are ministers of Ohio churches interested in economic conditions of their farmer parishioners?

An economic conference just held in Portsmouth, called by a minister, conducted by him in a church auditorium and participated in by ministers, laymen, and the very best of the subject of economic betterment, was held recently. As one minister put it, "spiritual development is somewhat dependent on physical welfare."

One of the preachers, after taking part in the discussion at the conference, was called upon to close the conference with prayer. He said in effect:

"O Lord, we know thou art interested in the boy who raises pigs. We know thou art interested in the farmer who tries to improve his land by the use of better stock. We know thou carest for those who would increase the yield of corn and wheat to the acre. Thou art the giver of all things, material as well as spiritual, and thou desirest that men shall have satisfactory living conditions."

Not one minute of the conference was devoted to consideration of spiritual development among farmers, and little was said about improvement of mental conditions. It was a conference called to study the economic problems of the farmers of southeastern Ohio, and was held for the benefit of Gallia, Pike, Scioto, Jackson, and Lawrence counties, the most rural section of Ohio.

In the call for the conference, people in the call for the conference.

Rev. Dr. J. E. Hawk, district superintendent of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Portsmouth district, said in part:

"This conference is called to bring the rural church into closer contact with rural economic welfare and into co-operation with other agencies for the betterment of rural life. The object of the conference is to discuss the economic questions, peculiar to these counties."

"There is a great similarity of conditions in this section, and it is believed that a meeting to study conditions, discuss problems, form organizations, investigate market facilities, roads to market, how to standardize products, preparation of packages, fertilizers, and many like questions would be profitable at this time."

U. S. MUST EXPORT EXTRA GOODS

New Era of Power, Says Speaker
At Western College

OXFORD, O. — (By Associated Press) — American manufacturers in selling their products abroad must "meet a competition that is lean and hungry from years of devastating war," R. S. MacElwee, director of the school of foreign service at Georgetown University, Washington, declared today in an commencement address at the Western College for Women.

"The United States has not become a part of the great world in political aspects only," the speaker said. "No matter how we may or may not espouse the national policy of political aloofness of the present administration, it is impossible for us to separate ourselves economically from the great stream of the world's commerce. We must import the products of the world for our factories and consuming public, and also we have arrived at a point where the productive power of the United States is greater than the ability of the American people to absorb the products of her industry. This means that if we are to keep the dinner pail of our working people full, we must export our surplus production to other countries."

"Things will not sell themselves any more. In the era that we are entering upon, it will be necessary to go out and actually sell the products of factory and laboratory."

"It is very important that the people of the United States appreciate the fact that all culture and civilization is founded upon commerce and industry."

American women, Mr. MacElwee declared, must take an important part in "this new era of American world power. The field of American women's participation, he said, may be divided into two groups:

"Those of direct participation in active income earning affairs or politics, and the indirect or dependent women's influence and help in the work of the men of the family thru the ballot."

The honorary degree of LL. D. was conferred upon Mrs. William Agnew Johnston of Topeka, Kansas, at the exercises. Mrs. Johnston has been prominent for years as a club woman, having been president of the Kansas Federation of Women's Clubs and a director of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

TROUBLED FOR TEN YEARS

If you suffer pains and aches during the day and sleep-disturbing weakness by night, feel tired, nervous and run down, the kidneys and bladder need to be restored to healthy and regular action. J. H. Osburn, R. F. D. No. 1, Lawrence, O., writes: "I had kidney trouble for ten years. I tried many remedies but they did me no good. I took Foley Kidney Pills and they helped me so much that now I am well."

"I Took Dreco 21 Months Ago Haven't Been Troubled Since

Had suffered nine years trying all kinds of remedies, seeking relief. So dizzy at times hardly keep from falling.

Nearly two years ago Mr. Peter Schlosser living at 540 N. MacDonald St. Lima, Ohio, took Dreco for kidney trouble, biliousness, catarrh and rheumatism. Dreco did him so much good his troubles never returned. Read his two statements dated nearly two years apart.

Lima, Ohio,

Sept. 1st, 1919.

"I suffered for a long time with kidney trouble and had violent pains in my back and limbs. Every mouthful I ate caused pain and distress in my stomach. I had to take medicine every day to move my bowels and my liver was very sluggish. My appetite was poor and I became so nervous I couldn't sleep. I tried everything I heard of in my efforts to get well but nothing brought relief until I tried Dreco and that banished all my ailments. My digestion was improved, constipation relieved, liver aroused to action and nerves steadied. Dreco proved a great blessing to me."

Lima, Ohio,

May 28th, 1921.

"It was about two years ago that I took Dreco and got such wonderful relief and I've been in good health every since. I took eight bottles of this medicine which seemed to build up my entire system. My stomach trouble never returned, the catarrh was banished and my liver thoroughly cleaned. The rheumatism never has shown up again, in fact Dreco gave permanent relief from my troubles."

Mr. Day, the well known Dreco expert, has headquarters at Hunter's Drug Store, 49 Public Square, to meet the local public and explain the merits of this great remedy. See him today.—Adv.

DARLING BABY BRIGHTENS HOME

Children's Laughter a Pleasing Sound

Altoona, Pa.—"I am writing to tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. We had six children die almost at birth. From one hour to nine months they all they have lived. Before my next one was born I took a dozen bottles of your Vegetable Compound, and I can say that it is the greatest medicine on earth, for this baby is now four months old and a healthier baby you would not want. I am sending you a picture of her. Everybody says 'That is a very healthy looking baby.' You have my consent to show these few lines to anybody."—Mrs. C. W. Benz, 181 3rd Avenue, Altoona, Pa.

Mrs. Janssen's experience of interest to childless wives. Millston, Wis.—"I want to give you a word of praise for your wonderful medicine. We are fond of children, and for a considerable time after we were married I feared I would not have any. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it strengthened me so I now have a nice, strong, healthy baby girl. I suffered very little at childbirth, and I give all the credit to your medicine, and shall always recommend it highly."—Mrs. H. H. JANSSEN, Millston, Wis.

Mrs. Held of Marinette, Wis., adds her testimonial for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She says:

Marinette, Wis.—"I was in a nervous condition and very irregular. My doctor advised an operation. My husband brought me one of your booklets and asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It overcame my weakness so that I now have a healthy baby girl after having been married one year. I am glad to recommend your medicine, and you may use my letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. H. B. HELD, 330 Jefferson St., Marinette, Wis.

There are many, many such homes that were once childless, and are now blessed with healthy, happy children because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored the mother to a strong and healthy condition, as it acts as a natural restorative for ailments as indicated by backache, irregularities, displacements, weakness and nervousness.

Women everywhere should remember that most of the commoner ailments of women are not the surgical ones—they are not caused by serious displacements or growths, although the symptoms may be the same, and that is why so many apparently serious ailments readily yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it acts as a natural restorative. It can be taken with perfect safety and often prevents serious troubles.

Therefore if you know of any woman who is suffering and has been unable to secure relief and is regretfully looking forward to a childless old age, ask her to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it has brought health and happiness into so many homes once darkened by illness and despair.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent to you free upon request. Write to The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.

JUNE BRIDE NOT FASHION NOW

Licenses in Twelve Cities Decreases 768 This Year

DIVORCES ON THE INCREASE

St. Louis Heaviest Loser With 174, Lansing Gains

NEW YORK—(By United Press) The "June bride" is becoming extinct, according to telegraphic activities received by the United Press today.

Regression at the same rate as the first six days in June as shown by the New York marriage license bureau, would mean the complete disappearance of the species in ten years.

Meanwhile, with June being left to the "sweet girl graduate" and rose fever, General Dan Cupid is suffering heavy losses thru a flank attack.

June divorces are increasing. Statistics from all sections of the country told practically the same story—a decrease in the number who whisper their vows in rose hedges, an increase of those who take their oaths in court.

Cupid's aide de camp—those imperturbable marriage-license clerks, who can look at anxious license seekers without grinning—have found a number of reasons for the decline in June business. Summarized, they are:

Lack of reverence for the superstitious that June is the real marriage month.

Increasing business independence of women.

Championship.

Termination of the rush of war marriages.

Working the same formula backwards, they say you find the answers for the June divorcees.

Here is what you find:

WOMAN'S SCREAM BEST DEFENSE, SAY DENVER POLICE

DENVER—(By International News Service—ETAOINNUNUNU) Scream loud and scream long when confronted by a burglar or a footpad.

This is the advice of Chief of Police "Rug" Williams, given in a series of "Hints on Home Protection" for the benefit of the female of the species.

A woman's best defense against attack is her voice, Williams declares, and says that the best and quickest thing for her to do when confronted by an intruder is to scream—scream at the top of her voice—and the more terrified the pitch the more successful her effort is likely to be.

Because, the Chief adds, either the burglar will flee or someone will come to her aid.

Time is too often limited in emergency cases for a woman to rush to a pillow, or a bureau drawer, to grasp a revolver, and, even when she does get hold of a gun, the chief thinks, the chances are she will not know how to use it. "So just scream, scream!"

And the high-mogul of Denver's Police Department adds a few "don'ts" to the advice to women.

"Don't slip over to the grocery store and leave the doors open."

"Don't go out at night leaving the house black dark. A thief works best under cover of darkness."

"Raise the shades, light up dimly, and lock the house before going out for an evening."

"Don't hide the front door key under the porch for 'sonny' or 'sisster' when they get home from school. A prowler watching the house is certain to discover the secret."

OWNER OF FATAL HOPE DIAMOND HAS NO FEAR; CHUM OF MRS. HARDING

Mrs. EDWARD B. McLEAN.

(By MILDRED MORRIS.)

WASHINGTON.—(International News Service.)—Hope diamond "jinx" has no terrors for Mrs. Edward B. McLean, Washington social leader and wife of the multi-millionaire publisher of the Washington Post and Cincinnati Enquirer.

When May Yoke, former music hall favorite whose exploits filled newspaper columns was hurt in a fall in New York the other day, she attributed the accident to the Hope diamond hoodoo. Thru her marriage to Francis Hope, she was the former possessor of the most famous of diamonds.

Mrs. McLean, its present owner, continues to wear the gorgeous gem, apparently indifferent to the legends connecting the mishaps and tragedies which have befallen its possessors in the past with some evil occult power supposed to be embodied in this wondrous diamond whose rays are so dazzling they almost blind the eye.

The Hope diamond crowns a collection of jewels said to be one of the most wonderful in the world. When traveling, Mrs. McLean carries most of the collection with her. Her husband always employs a detective to accompany her and keep an eagle eye on her jewels; treasures, for this young woman who has precious diamonds and rubies and pearls "to burn," as her friends express it, is said to regard them as carelessly as if they were mere baubles.

It is no longer a shock to Washington to see her on a shopping tour wearing the Hope diamond with a sports suit. She wears it almost constantly and with any sort of costume. Formerly she wore the famous stone at formal evening functions as the center of a jeweled diadem. She now wears it as a necklace pendant.

"The natives of Point Isabel, the fishing village in Texas on the Mexican border where Mrs. McLean accompanied President and Mrs. Harding last November on the outing which 'freshened' them for their entrance into the White House, still remember the 'jewelled lady' who roughed it with a rope of costly pearls around her neck and wore gorgeous rubies to brighten her outing costume."

The present possessor of the Hope diamond and closest friend in Washington's social set of Mrs. Harding, the First Lady of the Land, is the daughter of a Colorado miner.

Oldtimers in Ouray, Colo., recall the time when Evelyn Walsh played round the picturesque mining camp in a red flannel shirt and carrying a pick.

"Tom" Walsh, whose story reads like a fairy tale, was a man of genuine culture. His hands were rough with toil, but he needed no college degree or blue blooded ancestry to grasp the position of companion of kings and statesmen. Social triumphs in Newport and Europe marked his path after he "struck it rich."

He was an intimate of old King Leopold of Belgium.

The Colorado mining king dazzled Paris with the magnificence of his entertainments, the most notable of which was the dinner he gave in honor of Belgium's king. Food truly fit for a king was served on gold plates.

Mrs. McLean's intimacy with Mrs. Harding is of long standing. When the Hardings returned to Washington to prepare for the inauguration, they were guests at the McLean home and remained there until they moved into the White House.

Recently the Chief Executive and the First Lady of the Land "dropped in" on a dance the McLeans were giving and their first Sunday outing after they entered the White House was spent at Friendship, the McLean country estate at Leesburg, Va. It is rumored that the McLeans have offered this country place to the President for a Summer home.

Mrs. Thomas Walsh, Mrs. McLean's mother and widow of the Colorado mining king, is known as the friend of Vice Presidents. She was the most intimate Washington friend of former Vice-President and Mrs. Marshall. Most of the burden of official entertaining fell on Vice-President Marshall during President Wilson's illness. Possessing only a modest income and living at a hotel, the Marshalls would have been hard put if Mrs. Walsh had not thrown open her palatial home for their entertainments. It was there the state dinner to King Albert of Belgium was held. It was Mrs. Walsh's "treat." As at "Tom" Walsh's dinner to Leopold, King Albert's dinner, the food was served on gold plates.

Mrs. Walsh who is now in Europe is expected on her return to play "Lady Bountiful" to Vice-President and Mrs. Coolidge, who also live in a hotel and, like the Marshalls, find living on an income no larger than a Vice-President's salary a difficult job.

Every druggist in this country is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if two bottles of Allenru, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not stop all agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenru has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and hopeless and where the patient was helpless. Mr. James H. LUKE M'LUKE

AN American humorist in the person of James S. Hastings, better known under the nom de plume of Luke McLuke, has been called to the beyond, dying a short time after submitting to an operation for relief from appendicitis. For 20 years he was a member of the staff of the Cincinnati Enquirer.

Luke McLuke was one of the most widely quoted humorists of his time. Possessed of the advantage of a college education, with unfailing good humor and a sense of seeing a joke in most anything, he developed into the position of being accredited the presiding genius of the "Bits of By-Play" column appearing daily in the Cincinnati paper. His paragraphed comment was syndicated and published in many newspapers and periodicals, as well as being a feature of the movies. His voice is stilled and his genius is halted. Death has robbed the tenement of clay of a gift possessed by few.

His jests and jibes possessed no scholarlyness or appeal to the scholarly. His experiences were gained from life. He did not rely on books. Never particularly brilliant, he was never dull. His style was fixed. He kept his eyes on a standard and never essayed to overstep it. Never did he permit himself to write a mother-in-law joke. He made friends across the continent by his droll writings; his method of turning a joke from what appeared to others to be innocent utterances was original.

Native and natural, Luke McLuke daily entertained thousands. While he attracted, he also repelled. He lived to make others laugh and forget, while in so doing he also forgot his own physical pains. He was a bitter foe of prohibition, but was consistent in his stand on that question.

While it cannot be denied that many of his quips were coarse and did not appeal to all men, his writings were perhaps read more widely than any other humorist of his time. Those who knew Luke McLuke in life are a unit in the expression of the opinion that he was not a hypocrite. Even those who felt themselves superior to the sort of humor he essayed admit that the vulgarity of the "cracks" he penned brought down the house of many roof trees.

LEARN TO SWIM

IN these latter days of enlightened civilization, when the necessity of everyone acquiring a knowledge of how to take care of themselves in the water is so apparent, there is no reasonable excuse for anyone passing thru the stage of childhood to manhood and womanhood and not learning to swim. It is a "Safety First" proposition. When their children are possessed of such ability, parents need not worry when they are about the water.

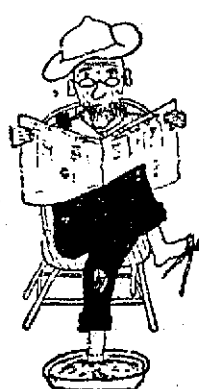

It is something that anyone may be called upon at any time to use, as an aide to self preservation or in aid of another not so fortunate. The floods of 1913 in Ohio and the later catastrophe that was visited on Colorado districts, as well as many similar incidents that have occurred elsewhere, prove beyond question of doubt that everyone owes it a duty to himself or herself to learn to swim.

The fact that the Lima Y. M. C. A. is arranging to stage a "Learn to Swim" week, June 13 to 17, is commendable. This will afford an advantage to those who may desire to develop themselves in that art. That many will enter the swimming class should be assured.

When it is taken into consideration that thousands of lives are lost every year thru inability of persons to swim, when accidentally cast into water, there is no excuse for anyone going thru life lacking such knowledge and ability. During the war it was found that one-third of the American men called into the military service could not swim. Records show that many lives were lost at sea, due to the fact that the art of swimming had not been previously mastered.

THE "BLOODY TURK" AGAIN

HAVING won the title by which he is known, "The Bloody Turk" continues to live up to it abundantly. Day after day the news columns carry the stories of massacres conducted by the Turks against hapless christians of Armenia. The Turk is a Mohammedan. His hatred of a christian is centuries old. He is ruthless and merciless. He kills and mutilates in his savage madness. To decimate the christian nation and entirely wipe it out if possible appears to be his program.

The latest story of the atrocities comes from Samsun and at Trebizond on the Black Sea coast of Armenia, where the streets are reported strewn with bodies of men, women and children. Shops in the cities have been sacked, according to reports from Athens, Greece.

Men who have grown from childhood to manhood and have read with almost continuous regularity of the atrocities committed by Turks against christians, in Europe and in Asia, have many times asked: "Why is it that the enlightened christian nations of the earth, particularly in Europe, permit the murderous Turk to satiate his lust for blood, rapine and murder?"

When these stories are flashed over the earth, civilized nations stand aghast—and do nothing. In the war Turkey, aligned on the side of the Central Powers, contributed its part to endeavoring to bring into being the program of a war-mad monarch. Its attention diverted for a time from its ruthless attacks on Armenia, Turkey has returned to its former practices, altho engaged at the moment in a war with Greece, its ancient enemy.

The feeling in the hearts and minds of American citizens for the most part is that Turkey should be forced to stop its murderous policy, even to the extent of wiping the blood-thirsty and lustful nation off the map of both Europe and Asia if necessary. Christian civilization is tired of waiting. The case of Turkey must be given attention. Too long now has it been delayed. The blood of martyrs demands it. Humanity cries out for it. When will justice be done?

RESISTING TEMPTATION

AN old saying that "murder will out," applies with equal emphasis to other forms of crime, including robbery. Those who spend a lifetime in positions of responsibility, handling thousands and millions of dollars belonging to others and refusing to listen to the voice of the tempter to steal, deserve no special praise. They are expected to do their duty and remain honest. Those who do not, generally pay in the end.

A young man in Toledo, 22 years of age, a trusted employee of a realty company—its secretary and treasurer—disappeared two weeks ago, following the disclosure of a shortage of $45,000 in his accounts, but is now under arrest, occupying a prison cell, facing retribution for his crime, with time aplenty to think it over and debate with himself the question as to whether, after all, it would not have been eminently better for all parties concerned if he had remained honest and trod the straight and narrow path of rectitude.

This misguided young man fled to California. His wife and babe went to Detroit. The young husband and father met with the same experience that many another had met before him. Home ties were strong. He was impelled to return. A long distance telephone call to his wife proved his undoing. He fell into the arms of the law.

He was disillusioned. He was ready to surrender. The house he builded on the sands during the period of his speculations fell about his head with a crash. It is now too late for regrets. He must face the consequences of his crime. Not only has he cast a shadow on his own life, but also upon those to whom he owes protection.

One wonders when our standard of morals will be such that men will realize that they cannot go on traveling the path downward and forever escape the consequences. Retribution will come some time, inevitably. The case of this Toledo young man has its counterpart often, in many places. The pity of it.

CONFESSIONS OF A CYNIC

I never seek the society of a man who talks about his career.
I never get excited over any report that the cost of living is coming down.
I am never favorably impressed by a man who whispers it is his own funeral and not mine.
I never steal an umbrella. I can never find one lying around loose.
I am never favorably impressed by a man who comes in, sits down and puts his feet on my desk.
I never censure a man who doesn't believe in my philosophy. I only pity him.
I don't like near-beer and I don't care how far away it gets.
I believe that a man who refuses to work is the worst profiteer we have in our midst.

JUST FOLKS—BY EDGAR A. GUEST

PEACE OF MIND

Life has no richer joy than peace of mind.
This is the common goal of great and low,
The perfect bliss which every man must know.
If happiness on earth he is to find:
To live his days and never leave behind
Shame or regret or hatred's drifted snow,
Taking the pleasures as they come and go.
Nor asking others of a greater kind.
Who wears this lovely jewel on his breast
Has none to envy, for no man can be Happier with all his treasures than is he;
For this is victory shining at its best—
To come to nightfall or gray, wrinkled age,
Content with what is written on the page.

It is not a lucky wedding day.

GETTING ALONG GOOD

Women are as great sufferers from kidney and bladder ailments as men. Polley Kidney Pills help rid the blood stream of impurities that cause rheumatic pains, backache, swollen, aching joints and stiff, painful muscles. Mrs. Carey, Box 91, R. F. D. No. 2, Middletown, N. Y., writes: "I had kidney trouble ever since I was a little girl, but I am getting along good since I have taken Polley Kidney Pills. They act immediately and help restore the kidneys to healthful activity."—Chas. J. Vorkamp, Main and McKibben-sts.—Adv.

HEALTH HINTS

By William Brady, M. D.

THE APTIC LIFE.
A correspondent makes this a caution to a letter I sent him concerning coryza:
"Your letter gives detailed instructions what to do when a person is already contracted the infection, but unless I am unduly thick there is nothing in it explaining how to prevent the inception of the infection. To my mind the important part of the whole problem is to be able to prevent the germs from taking hold. I want to know what to do to kill the brutes every night after the exposures which one has to encounter each day in traveling about at meeting people in business."

Everybody wants to know that, not only in the case of respiratory infections (which are responsible for the majority of everyday ills) but also regarding every other infectious communicable disease.

Have we any germ-discouraging antiseptic or germ-killing substance which will fill this want?
I do not believe in, and would not personally practice or prescribe the use of any spray, gargle, wash or irrigation of the nasal passages through the expectation of preventing the consumption of infection to which one has been exposed. I do believe in and would personally employ and prescribe such agents as the treatment of some of the infections in which the nasal lining throat is involved. My personal opinion is given for what it may or may not be worth. Some thoroughly competent physicians do recommend the use of sprays for the nasal passages and gargles for the throat, in view to preventing respiratory infections such as meningitis, infant paralysis, diphtheria and coryza.

In the course of the pandemic influenza many troops awaiting embarkation at a military post were infected. The surgeon in charge of many companies there carried out a very strict prophylaxis of this kind personally attending morning and evening to see that every man carefully sprayed his nasal passages at gargled with diluted Dobell's solution. It was a striking fact that many in this company developed influenza at the post, whereas no other company escaped pretty general infection. That is the strongest evidence I have met with.

The extreme difficulty common experienced in freeing the throats from diphtheria bacilli in cases "carriers" indicates how innocuous to disease germs is the gargle spray or other medication which is employed without injuring the patient. The reason why I am personally not an advocate of such measures is that I think we must injure the lining of the nose throat by our antiseptic or germicidal medicaments and so actually open the way for infection which would otherwise have been ward off by the natural resistance of the germicidal secretions of the impaired nose or throat linings. If the same reason I do not recommend the use of antiseptic or germ-killing dentifrices. It is generally known that one with a fever or a disease may be not only unimpaired but actually benefited by remedies which would perhaps do harm to a normal person—such as prolonged bed rest in the treatment of lung tuberculosis in the active stage.

The way to prevent respiratory infections is just what I have harped on constantly—keep outside of a five-foot barage of the person who has just had or is coming down with an alleged "cold."

CLARA KIMBALL YOUNG IN NEW PLAYS

"STRAIGHT FROM PARIS" IS HER NEXT RELEASE, HERE SOON

(By ESTHER WAGNER)

WHILE on her "personal appearance" tour, Clara Kimball Young is trying to learn just what kind of pictures her admirers want to see her in, and she believes she has been successful. Miss Young is more capable than most of the movie stars whose lights have dimmed rapidly this season. The personality of a star and the reputation of a picture are not sufficient to hold interest, Miss Young says. Real movie pictures are required.

The present series of Clara Kimball Young pictures, written by Sada Dorn, are above the average. You remember her great work in the musical treatise, "Hush." Her present offering, to be released in this city within a few weeks, is "Straight from Paris," in which she plays a fashionable milliner. The story is of her courtship by a young man she meets on her annual trip to Paris. He is of a wealthy old family of New York, who cannot see how in the world a girl can be "straight-from-Paris." It is an amusing, reasonably interesting movie and is notable for the way it comes out.

Clara's next venture, following "Straight from Paris" will be "Charge

MATT MOORE STARRED IN "PASSIONATE PILGRIM"

THE third brother of the Moore redoubtable Tom and Owen, demonstrates that he too can act, although his art is of a different type altogether. Tom is the merry, irresponsible funmaker and droll, actor who can be dramatic and droll, on occasion demands. In Matt we have the slow, poky, slightly dazed young man, who, nevertheless, in the present instance manages to save his life and himself from the wicked temptress. However, this is not supposed to be a life history of the three Moore brothers, but a review of the play "The Passionate Pilgrim" which is showing at the Faurot.

Samuel Merwin wrote the story, which enjoyed great popularity. The picture version, while it's a good picture, isn't the sort of drama that grows enthusiastic about. It has too many loose ends and unimportant details to be kept in mind. There's a lot of action and the story doesn't drag the least bit, which is something to be thankful for.

Mr. Moore is cast as Henry Criswell, a young author who went to prison and sacrificed his career to save his mother-in-law from the consequences of a crime. When he came out he started life anew as a reporter, when he becomes involved in the Cantey case.

Miriam Cantey, the invalid daughter of the deceased owner of the Cantey millions, was the innocent victim of the three trustees of the estate. Calverly, who traveled under the name of Stafford, was employed to write the biography of Cantey, senior. Certain papers, etc. came into his possession which would ruin the whole force of trustees should they ever come to light. Well, the two of them, the little invalid and the ex-convict reporter, put their heads together and fooled the whole bunch, saved the estate and miraculously cured the invalid.

Some of the best photography I have ever seen is a feature of "The Passionate Pilgrim." The cast, too, is an ideal one, boasting such names as Ruby de Remer, Claire Whitney, Charles Girard, Julia Swayne Gordon.

"The Passionate Pilgrim" is a mass-produced and as a vehicle for Matt Moore, is a humdinger. At the Faurot for the remainder of the week.

NAZIMOVA PLANS A FEMINISTIC FILM

THE great Alla Nazimova, who recently closed her contract with Metro, makes the announcement that, with the opening of her own company, she will produce a movie in which all the characters will be women.

Not a single man in it! The author and the director of the movie also are to be women. Some say it can't be "did." We'll just have to wait and see.

in the stage play. Griffith, meanwhile, is going ahead with his movie version of "The Two Orphans" with Sheldon Lewis in the role of Jacques.

CLARA SMITH HAMON AGAIN

WHEN Clara Smith Hamon tried to get into the movies on the strength of her stage-wide publicity, she is said to have failed. Now comes the announcement that she has started a production at the Warner Bros. studio, in Hollywood. It is said several prominent screen players are in the case with her, but their names have not been divulged.

MULHALL AND TURPIN—FROM THE SUBLIME TO THE RIDICULOUS

From the sublime to the ridiculous is the leap accomplished daily in the activities of the Mack Sennett studio, for the comedy king has dedicated a portion of his time, energy, genius and money to the creation of dramatic picture plays such as would more than suffice to do credit to any of the studios specializing in "legitimate" stories.

The first of the "serious" dramas to be made by Mack Sennett is "Heartbalm," the cast of which includes Jack Mulhall, Ethel Grey Terry, Herbert Standing, Noah Beery, Robert Cain, Ben Deasy, Kathryn McGuire, William Bevan, George O'Hara and others either specially engaged like Miss Terry and Messrs. Standing, Beery, Cain and Deasy, or selected from the Sennett organization like Miss McGuire, William Bevan and George O'Hara.

It is in "Molly O," the star of which is Mable Normand, that Jack Mulhall will make his first appearance under the Sennett banner. And "Molly O," the conceived in a lighter vein than the semi-tragic "Heartbalm," will be the second of the series of legitimately dramatic productions in the Sennett creative scheme.

But meanwhile Mr. Sennett is far more abandoning his priority in the realm of hilarity and Ben Turpin is at work on his series of "Ben Turpin Specials" that will continue to provide the world with hearty entertainment.

ENGLAND SAYS: "Never have there been so many pretty women; never had pretty women less intelligence. That is the verdict of film producers in this country and France who have been searching for months for stars who will outshine the popular American in the screen world."

The motion pictures that get over here feature Americans—Mary Pickford, Pearl White, Norma Talmadge, Clara Kimball Young and others. Their very names posted outside will crown houses to all parts of the British Isles, and this has led to a campaign to find English girls who are just as pretty so that they may usurp this popularity.

WHAT THEY'RE DOING

Rex Beach has left Goldwyn and will write for United Artists, which includes Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks, George Arliss and Charlie Chaplin, one of the first of Goldwyn's eminent authors—really the organizer—to pass to another firm.

Jack Holt, Lila Lee and Charles Ogle have been selected for important roles in William De Mille's next Paramount production. It will be a story by Rita Wetman. Title is unannounced.

ESTIMATE OF $4,946 ON
ELM-ST BRIDGE PRESENTED

Second estimate presented by the Lima Construction company for work on the Elm-st bridge was presented to Auditor David L. Rupert for payment Thursday, having been passed upon by City Engineer Vaughn Miller. The estimate calls for an expenditure of $4,946.

The first estimate for approximately $10,000 made by the company, was held up for a long time because of misunderstanding between city and county officials over payment of $18,000 from county funds.

It was paid some days ago following adoption of a resolution by the county commissioners, appropriating the money.

Clothing and hospital supplies will probably be the only contribution asked of the Red Cross, in case that organization is called upon nationally to aid the Pueblo flood sufferers. Mrs. Irene Mills Jackson, of the Home Service office stated Thursday.

In event such call is made upon the district organization, it will probably be cared for at headquarters. The production department of the Red Cross has amassed ample supplies of clothing for such emergencies. Mrs. Jackson stated, and only an extreme case would require an appeal to local chapters.

"Polly" Has Her Troubles With Her Inconsiderate Best Young Man

I am a young man 19 years old and I am not so certain that my love about a month ago I met a splendid young girl of 18. I am very certain that I have fallen in love with her but YOURS must have been a case of "love at first sight," but often happened that a case of genuine and lasting love has developed from a short acquaintance.

Of course, you and the girl whom you admire are very young come engaged and, perhaps, the wisest thing for you to do would wait for a while before you speak of love to her.

If you invite her to go out with you often and are always considerate and thoughtful of her pleasure, she will know that you are interested and care something for her friendship and companionship. If she accepts all your attentions and seems interested in you, you may be assured that she returns your regard. After you have been with number of times and have become thoroughly acquainted with her, you will be more certain of your love.

Dear Miss Smart:

(1) I am a girl of 16. Do you think I am too young to go with the boys once in a while? (2) I met a very nice man several months ago at a party. He wanted to bring me home. I would not permit him, for I knew my mother would be angry with me. Did I do right? (3) I am used to go with a boy steady or go with other boys too? (4) The young man I met has a great fault, but he says he will wait for me. Do you think he should consent to this? (5) Does not allow me to talk to him. (6) I am old must a girl be before she gets a position in an office? (7) Sixteen years old. (8) Perhaps you will be able to secure a position with only two years of schooling, providing you have a thorough understanding of typewriting and shorthand. However, if your parents' position is such that you can finish your high school education, I would advise you to do this, above all things. You will never regret it and you will be better adapted to enter the business world.

"Brown Eyes." (1) This question has been answered numerous times. (2) Yes, you did the proper thing. Perhaps your mother will be more lenient with you in the future, because she can see that you can be trusted and that you respect her wishes. (3) It is always well for a girl to go with different boy friends until she becomes old enough to become engaged and to feel satisfied in going with only one young man. (4) Much depends upon the seriousness of the fault. Your mother should be the judge in this case. (5) Sixteen years old. (6) Perhaps you will be able to secure a position with only two years of schooling, providing you have a thorough understanding of typewriting and shorthand. However, if your parents' position is such that you can finish your high school education, I would advise you to do this, above all things. You will never regret it and you will be better adapted to enter the business world.

When Wanting to Wash a Pillow-Tick-Rip one end of the tick nearly half open. Sew a pillow slip nearly half shut, now sew the open part of the tick to the open part of the slip. Shake the feathers out of the tick into the slip, baste the open end of the tick shut, also the open end of the slip. No trouble, no work and no muzz; all done in ten minutes.

A HELPFUL HAIR HINT

Here is good news for all men and women whose hair is faded, dry, streaked and scraggly—is falling out badly, and whose scalps are covered with dandruff and itchy like mad.

Your druggist can now supply you with a perfectly harmless, non-sticky or greasy, and even the first application usually makes the hair and scalp look and feel like per cent better.

If you want to save your hair, make it always look its best, and start a new growth, don't delay—begin using Parisian Sage, now famous throughout the world as the "Parisian Sage" and "Parisian Sage" Druggist will supply you. A large bottle costs you nothing if it does not give you perfect satisfaction—Adv.

Easy For Thin People to Put on Flesh and Gain Weight It's such an easy matter nowadays for thin, weak, scrawny people to put on good, healthy, solid flesh and become plump and graceful that one of the wonders of the world is that there are still so many people who seem to prefer to be all skin and bone, ungainly and unattractive to look upon.

Physicians have long known that whoever could discover a remedy that would cause the food that one puts into the stomach to turn into good, rich, flesh-making blood instead of going to waste, would also discover how to put healthy, muscular flesh onto thin under-nourished people and this has now been accomplished.

If you are thin, under developed, nervous, weak, or lack vigor and vitality, you can get at any good pharmacy a moderate cost, a ten days' treatment of EVANS' TRIPLE PHOSPHATE, a new combination of flesh-producing, blood-building, strength-creating elements that is guaranteed to put good, solid, lasting flesh on your body and to make you strong, healthy and vigorous, or money back.

Physicians who have watched the results of the Evans' Triple Phosphate treatment are astonished at its rapid action—often in a month five to ten pounds of desirable weight is gained. Hunter's Drug Store, Thompson and Green's, Butler's Drug Store has agreed to supply each of this paper with Evans' Triple Phosphate and to guarantee it to do just what is claimed for it or money returned—Adv.

"I am now past seventy-six years of age, and never felt better in my life," says Louis C. Post, of Washington Place, Newburgh, N. Y., "and I can hold up my end of a day's work with the best of them."

"I may sound unreasonable, but when I commenced taking Phosphated Iron, I was a broken-down old man. My stomach had gone back on me; I was nervous and all worn out; and thought my life had come."

"Today I have as much strength and energy as I ever had. I do not feel a day over forty years of age; I earn my own living, and ask no favors of any man. I have put on so much weight that all my friends are telling me how well I look. To tell the truth, I do not know what would have become of me if Phosphated Iron had not given me a new lease on life, and I will praise it to the end of my days."

Always insist on Phosphated Iron in capsules. Do not take pills or tablets. Leading Druggists everywhere.

JACK DEMPSEY DECLARES HE IS PLEASED WITH SHIFT WHICH HE IS PRACTICING NOW

(By JACK DEMPSEY)
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—The old saying about "everything happens for the best" seems to be working out nicely in my case.

Jack Dempsey practicing my shift against a bag held by my brother, Bernard. I never practiced that before, but I'll do it a lot in the future. With the bag held stationary in front of me, at the same angle as a fighter's head, I tear into it just like I would an opponent. In making the attack I have been practicing my shift, and Oh boy! it's working great. This new form of exercise is one that I'll keep up even after I resume boxing, which will be in a day or two.

My ring success has come largely from two things, punching power and the shift, which has surprised opponents that they didn't know with which hand I was going to hit. By practicing different methods against the bag I have been speeding up the shift and find that I can shift almost twice in the flash of an eye—a double shift, as it is called. To-day I tore into the bag leading with a fake left, then faking a right lead—and then actually hitting with the left. If I can speed up my movement with that double shift it will be mighty as set for me in my battle with the Frenchman.

My workout to-day started off with a six-mile jaunt on the road which "pepped" me up nicely. After that I loafed around for a while. Then I helped to weed one of the little gardens in back of the house, we're trying to grow strawberries and I'm hoping they'll ripen soon enough to furnish my partners and myself with a few dishes each.

After this I acted as assistant kennel builder. I arrived here without any dogs. Now I have five. I don't like to have them roam all around the place for fear they'll get lost, so I had the little enclosure built on my house where the dogs have plenty of room to frisk around and where they will be safe at night.

Getting the old hammer back in my hand had a familiar feel. I used to do carpenter work around "Salt Lake" and if I hadn't gone in for fighting who knows but what I would be hanging out a shingle now with "Jack Dempsey, builder and contractor" painted on it.

My real workout came in the afternoon, as usual, and took place in the big aeroplane hangar. Started off with the ordinary bag punching exercise, which lasted about ten minutes. Then came five minutes practice with the shift, with Bernard holding the rubber bag.

Shadow boxing—about 10 minutes of it—followed, and I'll say that I'm going good for, altho I stepped around at top speed, I was fresh and strong at the finish. Concluded my work with 10 minutes punching exercise against the bag 100-pound bag, that's filled with wool. Either my socks are carrying greater steam than ever before or the leather covering on that bag is poor, for I split it again to-day. I'm hoping that the former is the case—and I feel that it is. Don't figure on doing any boxing until Saturday or Sunday—and then I'll be rarin' to do. I've warned my sparring partners that they'll earn their money from then on.

GEORGES APPEARS TO BE KIDDING FIGHT FANS

By JACK MAULIFFE
(Undeclared Lightweight Champion)

This Carpenter isn't such a "sucker" for a left as he wants the experts to believe.

I saw him work out in private yesterday, but he didn't know it. He was mingling with a bunch of cows on top of a hill adjacent to his pasture ring. The Frenchman confined his two rounds with the big Journee almost entirely to defensive work and the big sparring mate couldn't come near him with a left.

Of course, I'm not saying that Journee is so good. He ought to land when he wants to, but he had been getting his lefts across in the public workouts. Carpenter evidently wanted it to appear in print and get to Dempsey that he was wide open to anything from the port side.

The Frenchman put a lot more in his work than he does on "newspaper days." He seemed far more serious and went at his work with genuine interest.

Today Carpenter was to entertain the scribes again with the ancient Joe Jeannette as his chief victim. Joe is always the victim of the public workouts, perhaps because he is the only one who can get over just what he desires to get in print.

I have come to the conclusion that his public work doesn't mean a thing and that we can't get a line on his ability from any close range. Unless Descamps pests guards out in the trees and bushes on the hill, we can see his private workouts, but you can't see very much from that distance.

When Descamps cut the public workout down to two days a week and said his boy needed more private work, I thought he was joking, but it seems he was not. The Frenchman is working hard four days a week.

If he keeps it up for almost the month that remains before the big bout, I don't see how his trainers are going to keep him on edge, unless he is a demon for work.

Right now he's in the condition that he ought to be in the week before the fight. He hasn't any weight to lose without hurting his chances. Perhaps the camp hasn't been tipped off to the hot weather that is sure to come along the last weeks of June. He had better have more in reserve to carry him thru the hotting period that usually comes just before July.

HEAVY SWATTING DUE TO INEFFECTIVE HURLING

Ineffective pitching, due to the elimination of freak deliveries, is responsible for the rattle of extra base hits off the fences of Major league baseball parks, according to Manager Tris Speaker of the world's champion Cleveland club.

"The enemy ball, the shiny ball and other extremes to which pitchers resorted for many years, have been down the batting," Speaker asserted. "Now they are illegal and spitball pitching has been virtually done away with. The heavy batting of this season is only a natural consequence."

"It is uncertain whether steps will be taken by baseball officials to increase the effectiveness of the pitchers. The public thus far seems to like the heavy hitting, judging from the interest shown in the game this season. Certainly, the restrictions on freak pitching deliveries cannot be lifted with safety to the game."

FOLKS BELIEVE GEORGES HAS LOT UP SLEEVE

Folks hereabout who would like to view Georges Carpenter going thru his paces during his secret training sessions, but can't have expressed the opinion that the challenger is fooling the public. They believe he has more up his sleeve than he is willing to let the world in general know about, and that his somewhat listless attitude when boxing for newspaper men is but a ruse to conceal his real powers.

While the French champion is not always listless before the critics, he has been refused to effectively demonstrate just how he is going to conduct his offensive campaign when he enters the ring with Dempsey. Apparently that is only half the story, for from all indications Carpenter will continue to let the public wonder just how many tricks he brought in his little bag from Paris.

There is no doubt that the debonair prize fighter has a rare track record of speed, for he occasionally creates a forget himself when the newspaper men are watching him, and displays a few of the traits that have made him famous.

During his secret sessions, however, it is known that Carpenter takes his work more seriously. Just what he does, however, Manager Descamps said, in Georges' own business. Descamps has declared that the public will know the result of these private sessions in the ring when they see or read of Georges in action on July 2.

JIM JEFFRIES FOOLED EASTERN FANS

Only a little more than two years were given to Bob Fitzsimmons in which to enjoy the glamour and gold that accompany a heavyweight championship. The honor was knocked out of his sturdy shoulders by James J. Jeffries on June 9, 1899, at Coney Island.

Jeffries had graduated from a bootmaking establishment into the ring square with two ruffed fists that pounded Fitzsimmons into submission in eleven rounds and which enabled the new champion to stick at the head of the fistie procession for many years.

The challenger of Fitzsimmons came from California, and was expected to sail into the champion with the zest and abandon then common to the California pugilist.

Identical bill is pending in the senate and it is predicted that it will pass.

The bill creates a state athletic commission of three members to be appointed by the governor. All boxing exhibitions are to be under jurisdiction of the commission. Five per cent of the gross receipts of all matches are to be paid into the state treasury and only 10-round no-decision bouts are allowed.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—Boxing in Illinois was sanctioned in a bill passed by the house of representatives here Wednesday night. An identical bill is pending in the senate and it is predicted that it will pass.

THIS TEAM WILL ENDEAVOR TO RETURN POLO CUP

C. C. BURNEY, T. HITCHCOCK, JR., J. WALKER, WEDD, S. DEVEREUX, MILBURN.

"We can't say that we will win, but we'll do our best to take the cup back to America."

That's the sentiment of the American polo team which is now in England preparatory to the first international match between England and America since 1914, which will start June 18. England has won the polo cup four times while United States has taken it three times since the competition started in 1886. Americans are hoping that the coming matches will tie the score.

Wamby, who is really a star, and baseman, is back in the game. He may help to get the club back on its feet. Speaker had a big part in deciding to bench Stephens, 359 hitter but a mediocre fielder, and put Wamby back in the game but he is trying it.

INDIANS HAVE TWO HUMORS. The Indians have only two humors—working with any degree of reliability and while a pennant was won on two pitchers, it isn't every day.

If the Yanks were anything but a funny ball club, the pennant would be considered "it." Now the Yanks are a funny ball club. I take the hardest clubs and fall fore the second division.

They have an in and out pitcher staff and one of the worst out in the major leagues. They're in the balance and class that made Indians champions.

Yankees Looking Bette

By HENRY L. FARRELL.

Just at this present moment few berries set on the Yanks. Number 1 in the American League wouldn't brand "one a nut."

In the present Yank-Indian series which has developed into a battle for at least temporary possession of the league lead, the Yanks look to the good.

Of course, Speaker's men have terrible slump clutching their throats and the Yanks are showing on their periodic flashes of good ball. Speaker's pitching is all to bad and the Huggins hurlers producing.

O'NEILL'S ABSENCE HINTS. What a difference one star pitcher makes in the way the champions are flourishing around without the great Steve O'Neill, star catcher, one of baseball's great, is out with a broken finger, and he will not be able to play for three weeks. In that time the pennant can fly away.

Out the great Steve, the Indians have lost infield balance and pitchers are unsteady.

STEUERNAGLE CASE UNDER ADVISEMENT

Judge H. W. Blachly, Van Wert, who was engaged the first three days of the week in hearing of testimony in the contested divorce action of J. Henry Steuernagle against his wife, Clara M. Steuernagle, took the case under advisement when the testimony was completed, Wednesday night.

The case went on record as being the longest drawn contested action for divorce which has occupied Allen county courts in many years. More than fifty witnesses, in all, were called to testify.

Steuernagle is a widely-known farmer of the northern part of Allen county. His wife was chairman of committees which put over Liberty bond and war chest campaigns in that township. She has a wide acquaintance as a lodge woman over this part of the state.

JAP PRINCE SENDS MESSAGE TO U. S.

Hopes Japan and America Will Insure Lasting Peace

WANTS TO MEET YANKEES

Desires Two Countries to Work Hand in Hand

(By WILFRID FLEISHER)

PARIS — (By United Press)—“I hope America and Japan may always be found working hand in hand, not only for our mutual benefit, but to insure lasting peace throughout the world.” Crown Prince Hirohito of Japan declared today in an exclusive interview with the United Press.

The prince upset all tradition when he personally received the correspondent at his temporary residence here.

“I have long cherished a desire to visit the United States,” the prince said. “I hope it will only be a deferred pleasure.”

ENOJO'S MEETING

Being interviewed was decidedly new experience for the carefully guarded descendant of the world's oldest dynasty.

He was somewhat restrained at first but lost the stiffness after the first question and smiled as he delivered his answers thru an interpreter. He appeared to be enjoying the meeting as much as the correspondent enjoyed questioning him.

A uniformed member of the prince's suite accompanied me into the presence of the prince. Another attendant stood beside the prince in the big reception room where the interview was held.

MESSAGE TO U. S.

“His Highness commands me to deliver to you a message to the people of the United States,” the interpreter said. He then gave me a formal statement.

The message to the people of the United States was:

“I have long cherished a desire to visit the United States and meet her people. I hope it will only be a deferred pleasure.”

“I know full well to what degree justice and freedom are valued in America and that no efforts are ever spared by her people in the cause of humanity.”

“I hope Japan and America may always be found working hand in hand, not only to insure mutual benefit, but to insure lasting peace throughout the world.”

MISS MICHAEL'S SUIT FOR WOOLEY ESTATE NEAR END

Taking of testimony in the suit wherein Miss Maude Michael is endeavoring to acquire the $75,000 estate of Joseph Wooley, for whom she served two years as housekeeper, is rapidly drawing to a close.

The trial was removed from the third floor court room Thursday to common pleas court room, with the completion, Wednesday of the Steuernagle divorce case.

A niece of Wooley, chief contestant in the case for the property left by her uncle, declared it had been so long she could hardly recollect it, since she had visited in his home, while on the witness stand Thursday.

Wooley died without making a will, altho many persons testified he had told them he would do so and leave his entire estate to his housekeeper.

CELEBRATE 4TH IS BEING PLANNED

Committee Named on Program —Meeting Monday

How Lima is to celebrate the Glorious Fourth will be determined at a meeting of representatives of women's clubs, business men and military heads, to be held in the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium Monday night. J. Kennard Johnson will preside.

Besides observing the birthday of freedom 145 years ago, when the Declaration of Independence was issued, the Federated clubs will present a plan to give recognition to the recently naturalized citizens of Lima.

Many of these men have accepted their citizenship practically on trust. It is believed that by including them in the program for the day, they will have a greater realization of the meaning of freedom and self government.

Plans for the regular celebration will be safe and sane, according to advances reports. The city ordinances governing discharge of fireworks, specify nothing larger than a two-inch firecracker and prohibit Roman candles, rockets, blank cartridges and other high power explosives, save when fired in the parks as part of the program. Enforcement of this ordinance has resulted in eliminating the usual casualty list that accompanied the Fourth in years past.

Lima has had no general celebration of any sort on the Fourth for a number of years and the meeting Monday is in response to a general desire that the day be observed this year.

The committee nominated to discuss the program is composed of: J. Kennard Johnson, chairman; Mrs. F. A. McLaughlin, Mrs. Boecher Moke, Francis Van Horn, P. W. Crawford, F. E. Harman, Dr. J. C. Bradfield, Dr. George Hale, Clarence Holler, Colonel John Harley, Captain W. B. Wilcox, B. A. Gramm, E. C. Moyer, J. E. Morton.

Council may take up the matter of fireworks at the next meeting. Under present ordinance none can be sold until the day of the celebration. The matter was broached at council Monday and the judiciary committee promised to report two weeks hence.

MUTT AND JEFF—AND NICKELS ARE AS SCARCE AS HEN-TEETH THESE DAYS—

SHORT SHAVINGS

Much has been written about diplomatic caddies. This caddy went a step too far, however. The enthusiastic golfer, with an easy approach shot to make, had dropped his ball into a creek at one side. "That reminds me of Jeff Courtney's golfing," he remarked to himself. The caddy, wanting to know how the wind lay before saying much, queried, "Is he on the outs with you?"

"Your new pianist didn't stay long."

"I had to let him go," said the manager. "As like as not he'd be playing a jazz selection when people were dining on the screen."

"Didn't he offer an explanation?"

"Oh, yes. He said circumstances compelled him to accept employment in a movie house, but he would be daddled if he'd prostitute his intellect by looking at the pictures."

Joan was to have a birthday party, having attained the enormous age of six years. She was very anxious indeed to comport herself correctly, and was plying her mother with questions.

"Well, dear," said her mother, in answer to one concerning the advisability of saving grace before the meal, "for such an informal little party I hardly think you need."

Accordingly, when all the little guests were seated around the table, Joan from the head announced solemnly: "Mother says this is such an informal little party, we need not say grace."

INGROWN NAIL

Toe Nail Turns Out Itself if You Toughen Skin

A noted authority says that a few drops of "Outgro" upon the skin surrounding the ingrown nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it will not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost over night.

"Outgro" is a harmless, antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.—Adv.

KIDNEY AND BLADDER TROUBLES CONQUERED OR MONEY BACK

For 46 years, said Dr. Carey, I have been prescribing Marshroot for kidney and bladder sickness and now that I have retired from active practice I have made arrangements with leading druggists to dispense this wonderful prescription at a moderate price, on the money back if dissatisfied plan.

Beware of kidney disease—thousands die of it every year who ought to be enjoying the blessings of life and health. Watch the symptoms. If you have specks floating before the eyes, puffiness of the face, or moles on the backache or sideache, you ought to get a bottle of Dr. Carey's Marshroot right away.

It has wonderfully benefited tens of thousands of cases of kidney and bladder trouble—and the results you can always depend upon. Results are guaranteed.

NOTE—Dr. Daniel G. Carey was a practicing physician for many years and his great Prescription Marshroot aided thousands of cases of kidney, bladder and bladder troubles. Hereafter you can always get this effective Prescription at the U. S. Store, Thompson & Green, or any reliable pharmacist in the country. Keep in mind the name, Dr. Carey's Marshroot Prescription No. 777. No other medicine can take its place.—Adv.

Reduce those Dangerous Swollen Veins

Physicians are prescribing and hospitals are using a new and harmless, yet very powerful germicide that not only cures cancer of the veins and blemishes to become normal, but also reduces swollen, enlarged glands and veins.

Ask any first-class druggist for an original two-ounce bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil (full strength) and refuse to accept anything in its place. It is such a highly concentrated preparation that two ounces lasts a long time, and furthermore, this wonderful discovery does not produce the results anticipated, you can have the price refunded. It is not wise for anyone to allow swollen veins to keep on enlarging of ten they burst and cause weeks of pain suffering and loss of employment. Start the Emerald Oil treatment as directed, and improvement will begin at once. Generous sample on receipt of 15 cents, silver or stamps. International Laboratories, Rochester, N. Y. Your druggist or 2 Hunter's Drug Store, Thompson's Drug Store, International Drug Store, Public Drug Store can supply you.—Adv.

EPSOM SALTS LIKE LEMONADE

If you want epsom salts without the awful taste and nausea, ask your druggist for a handy package of "Epsomade Salts" which looks and acts exactly like epsom salts, because it is real epsom salts combined with fruit derivative salts, giving it the taste of sparkling lemonade.

Take a tablespoonful in a glass of cold water whenever you feel bilious, headachy or constipated. "Epsomade Salts" is the much talked of discovery of the American Epsom Association.—Adv.

GIRLS! BLEACH UGLY FRECKLES

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any drug store will supply for a few cents, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of the best freckle and tan lotion, and complexion whitenor.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day and see how freckles and rosy-white the skin becomes.—Adv.

Display of Lingerie

To interest, especially, the bride elect.

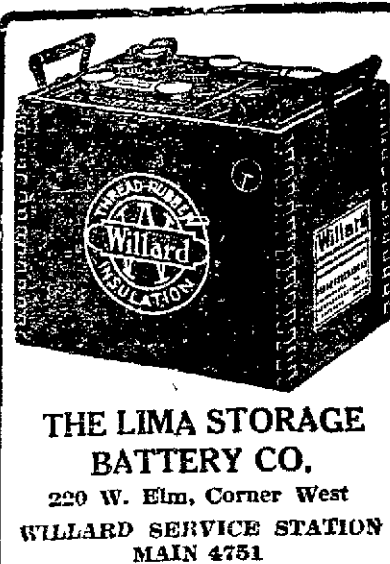

For what bride is not interested in intimate apparel of soft satins and clinging crepes; of dainty ribbons and delicate laces? Things that are so typically feminine and so indescribably lovely.

Glove-silk vests and bloomers; daintily trimmed with net and laces; or, for those that like tailored things, here too are hemstitched sets.

And such lovely crepe de chine outfits. These consist of gown, vest, bloomer and chemise; some in the much wanted color of orchid. The crepe in these garments is of splendid quality, luxurious and heavy. Of novelties there is no end—such novelties as georgette vests and pants, gowns and chemise, many beautifully trimmed in real laces.

The bride of modest tastes can be satisfied in this establishment as well as she who inclines to luxuries.
